Microsoft Student Innovation Suite (Lite) 2.5 is an evaluation version that allows you to create and present Excel-based business graphics, design interactive websites with PowerPoint, and produce multimedia presentations with Word. You can try out all these programs for free for 30 days before you have to purchase a license. That's right, this is a full free download of the Microsoft Student Innovation Suite Lite 2.5 so go ahead and download it now! You'll be glad you did. The Microsoft Student Innovation Suite Lite 2.5 is the ideal package for students who are starting out in Microsoft Office, or are looking to learn how to use different programs individually before getting familiar with them all together. This program includes two programs: PowerPoint and Word, which you can use individually. Not only that; it also includes Expression Web which allows you to create professional websites that can be published on the Internet. The Microsoft Student Innovation Suite Lite 2.5 includes several new features which make this version 10% faster to run than the previous one. The new features also allow you to see results faster, work with larger files, and apply different themes. You can now work with larger files using Microsoft Office Word 2007. You can increase or decrease the size of your document just by zooming in or out, which makes it easier for you to look for any errors that might have been missed otherwise. The multiple changes have made the program more efficient and optimize your workflow so that you can do more work in less time. The PowerPoint Presentations in the 2.5 version are now more impressive than ever. The new themes in the latest version of PowerPoint 2007 include colored backgrounds, new graphic elements, and slick fonts which make your presentations look more professional. The Microsoft Student Innovation Suite Lite 2.5 gives you the opportunity to create animated characters for your presentation with just a few simple clicks in the revamped animator application in PowerPoint 2010. Your presentations will look more professionally done with 3D diagrams, transitions, video clips and audio that will all be brought together in one single presentation. The Word processing that was used to be available in Word 2003 is back again in Version 2010. The full-featured Word Processor is available for you to play with, so you can learn how to use it before moving on to using the more advanced versions. Learning how to use this version will also give you the advantage of being familiar with the features that are available in the other versions, which will make it easier to transition into them. The Microsoft Student Innovation Suite Lite 2.5 allows you to try out all these programs for free for 30 days before you have to purchase a license. With this full-featured trial version you can create graphics, design websites, and produce multimedia presentations.
